Stock futures inch higher to kick off the trading week of August

 Global markets. Stock futures rose slightly to kick off the final trading week of August.

Futures tied to the Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 50 points, or about 0.15%, while S&P 500 futures and Nasdaq-100 futures added 0.14% and 0.7%, respectively.

Stocks are coming off a winning session following fresh remarks from Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell. The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained 247.48 points, or 0.7%, on Friday, but finished the week 0.45% lower. The S&P 500 added about 0.7%, while the Nasdaq Composite advanced about 0.9%. Both the broad-based and tech-heavy index notched their first winning week in four, adding about 0.8% and 2.3%, respectively.

Speaking Friday at the annual central bank conference in Jackson Hole, Wyoming, Powell pointed to some signs of continued economic growth and strong consumer spending, but indicated that the central bank would "proceed carefully" with additional hikes.
